

Call for Participation: European Conference

¡No Pasaran!

Confronting the Rise of the Far-Right

European Conference: Saturday 2nd March 2019, 9.30 to 5pm

Bloomsbury Central, 235 Shaftesbury Ave, London WC2H 8EP

The far-right is on the offensive across Europe: the biggest upsurge since the 1930s. From street attacks and mobilisations to government office, they use Islamophobia, anti-Semitism, xenophobia and racism to spread hate and fear, they attack trade unionists and the left, and the rights and liberties of us all.

Gaining succour from the Trump White House, they are increasingly internationalised, well-funded and well-organised. Bolsonaro's victory in Brazil extends this wave into Latin America.

These developments must be countered by rapid and effective mobilisation from the labour and progressive movement. We must be united, in Britain and across Europe, and beyond, to defeat this immensely dangerous political turn. This is vital, for far right domination of European politics would spell disaster for millions across the continent.

We call on all left and progressive forces from across Europe to come to London for this conference. Our goal is to work together, analyse, strategise to counter the far-right; to promote viable political alternatives and coordinate an effective response.

These are dangerous times: time for solidarity and unity.

For more information contact nopasaran@prruk.org or visit www.prruk.org

Register for the conference here

Organised by the journal Transform UK and supported by and with participation from Global Justice Now, Stand up to Racism, Another Europe is Possible, European Left Party, Transform Europe Network, TUC, ETUC, Espaces Marx, DiEM 25 UK, The Monitoring Project, Greece Solidarity Campaign, Muslim Association of Britain, Stop the War Coalition, Day-Mer and others