Sponsored by the Lutheran Church of Bavaria via Mission EineWelt

The so-called “Group of Seven” (G7) will meet at Schloss Elmau, a mansion situated in the Bavarian Alps, on 7 and 8 June 2015. The heads of state and government of Germany, the United States of America, Japan, Great Britain, France, Italy and Canada plan to use this location in order to discuss topics like foreign and security policy, world economy, climate and development.

The Summit of Alternatives intends to unveil the criticism levelled at the G7 publicly. The different global crises were in part caused by current policies. Alternative approaches in regard to economics, environmental protection, human rights and peace policy will be presented and discussed.
